WELCOME TO THE DOOLITTLE

The Doolittle Bar is named after Eliza Doolittle a Cockney character and the protagonist in George Bernard Shaw's play Pygmalion (1913) and its 1956 musical adaptation My Fair Lady.

It is the 1964 musical drama adaptation that is most renowned and starred Audrey Hepburn as Eliza Doolittle and Rex Harrison as Henry Higgins, and won eight Academy Awards.

George Bernard Shaw stayed at Parknasilla on six occasions writing the bulk of his play St Joan during one of his stays. Shaw was awarded a Nobel Prize in Literature in 1925. Shaw also won his Oscar in 1939 for Best Writing, Screenplay for his role in adapting his own play Pygmalion for the screen.

George Bernard Shaw once described Parknasilla as

"A place of long sea views and intricate walks between ferns and fuchsias, rock and rhododendron, to burnt out castles lost within the woods and along the various fingers of land that point south West into the warm Atlantic this place does not belong to any world that you or I have ever worked or lived init is a part of our dream world."
